The screenshot shows a Zoom webinar in progress. The main content is a presentation slide from Johns Hopkins University's Center for Systems Science and Engineering (CSSE). The slide displays global COVID-19 statistics as of 3/18/2020 1:23:02 p.m. The total confirmed cases are 214,010, and total deaths are 8,727. A world map shows the distribution of cases, with large red circles indicating high concentrations in East Asia, Europe, and North America. A table lists confirmed cases by country/region, with China having the highest number at 80,980. A line graph shows cumulative confirmed cases over time, with a sharp increase in late February and early March. The slide also includes a 'Loved by' section with 157 likes and a list of data sources.

Participants in the webinar include:

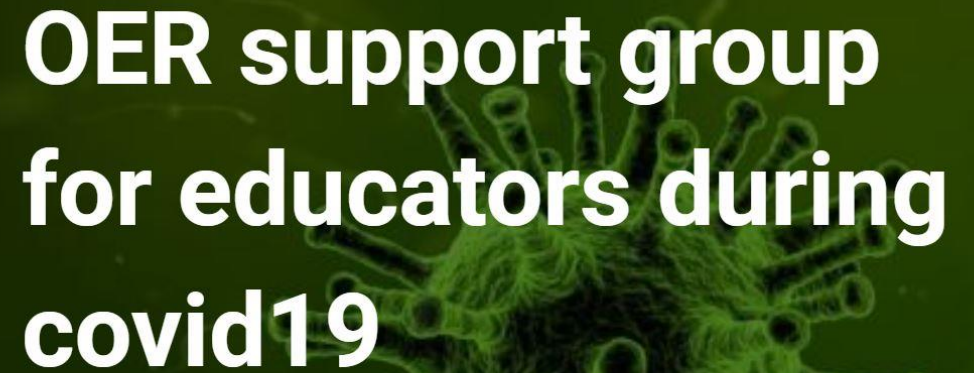

- António Teixeira (host)
- International Council ...
- António Teixeira
- Ebba Ossiannils...
